Greeley Raps MTA On Park Circle Bus Run

The Board of Selectmen this week in a letter to MTA asked that buses running from Park Circle to Harvard sq. round the bend at the Circle to pick up passengers waiting for that bus.

The action was taken after Selectman Greeley blasted the MTA for what he termed a "public be damned attitude."

He stated that on Tuesday morning he had watched while some twenty persons stood in the cold waiting for the bus, which he said was parked elsewhere in the Circle.

He said that when he ques- tioned the driver about let- ting the passengers on the bus while the bus waited, the driver gave him a sharp answer.

Greeley said he took the name of the driver and the bus and wished that these be included in the letter.

He concluded by saying that the buses on this Har- vard run have no schedules and that it is cruel to make passengers wait in the cold when they could be in the buses.

The 1000 was won by Arnold Repucci of Arlington in 2:40.7; James Giffallen of Arlington finished second and Richard Knibbs of Somerville third.

Dave Falwell of Arlington took the dash in 6 seconds with Richard Moriarty finishing second and Will Simmons of Somerville third.

Arlington's seventh win was in the one-lap relay as a team of Falwell, Moriarty,

Martin and Lewis set a new record in the time of 1:27.6. Kevin Flynn of Somerville won the first of three events taken by that team as he edged team mate Joe Maniglio in the 600. Curtis Gilbert of Arlington finished third; time was 1:29.2.

Tom Marsh of Somerville won the hurdles in 7 seconds with Clayton Zucker of Arlington finishing second and Pete Franzosa of Somerville third.

The team of Maniglio, Knibbs, Brady and Flynn took the mile relay for Somerville in 4:07.3.

Editorial

Do You Remember?

Do you remember how long ago it was that a death-dealing polio epidemic hit the New England area, specifically, Massachusetts?

Maybe, it was -- well it seems like a long time ago.

Yes, that is the general consensus of opinion. The exact time seems vague. Some trace the time back to the early fifties; others feel it was only two or three years ago.

Generally, it was back in the middle fifties, specifically it was 1955.

But we will talk in terms of generalities.

Back in the middle fifties, the word polio was one that brought fear into the hearts of everyone. Over the years scattered cases, some fatal, others life-crippling hit this area.

Arlington students were given sample shots of a new vaccine that was supposed to prevent the contracting of the dread disease.

Then, the horrible happened, hundreds of cases were reported throughout eastern Massachusetts, death reports were daily occurrences from towns and cities during the heat filled months of July, August and September. Along with the wild hurricanes and the floods resulting from hurricanes, which also raged through the area, the polio epidemic created a summer of horror for residents of the state.

Now here we are some, five to six years later.

It is March of Dimes time, the time of the year when one and all are asked to donate just a little to continue the fight against polio and to help those who were unfortunate enough to contract this disease.

Maybe polio seems far away to us now, because Massachusetts has been comparatively free of its rapid-fire race over entire communities, counties, and states.

But, as nearby as Rhode Island, a neighboring state, the dread disease struck with full and complete fury as short a time ago as last summer.

For those who have received their shots, polio in most cases, is but a name as is small pox and other diseases which we have little reason to fear any more.

But there are the many who have not had their required number of shots and the many who suffer the after-effects of polio and there are the few who have been struck down in recent years despite having received their shots -- and further there is the need of additional research and additional hospital space in man's effort to erase forever, the threat of polio from the face of the earth.

For these ends, we urge that you all do whatever you can, regardless how small to help win this tremendous struggle.

The Campaign In Arlington

Greetings and Happy New Year! Now that the town elections and campaigns are soon to be upon us, I have been asked to write this column. Naturally the views expressed are neither of the editor nor his associates.

Have heard soundings from a local town committee that the political (?) columns in the other town papers are partisan. This I am sure is not true but it is probably only coincidental that a candidate for selectman gets a big play in both columns. In fact rumor has it that he authors one of them.

But that is not my concern, rather I should like to survey the field and pass on my info to the faithful readers of this paper.

This week will be devoted to the candidates who have taken out papers for selectmen. I hear that the Town Democratic Committee is planning to have a confab between the six rumored Democratic candidates for selectman and a five man committee representing the various Democratic factions in town. From what we hear Rawson and Pellegrini are definitely in and the move is to try to get Hurd to wait one year. Feeling is that Rawson and Hurd only cut each others vote and why do that when both could get in only in different years. Also Hurd will make a good candidate in a one to one fight with Parker.

Tommy Azarian's papers, not taken out by him, have been recalled and hence the Azarian threat has been removed to the favor of all candidates.

Hoping over we find Bob Porteus gathering his organization together from last spring when he became Republican State Committeeman over Bob Whilton. Wonder what the effect on the voter will be to have two in a family going for different offices. Have not had the pleasure to meet Mike Marcellino or Charlie Morgan but hear they are a likeable fellows.

Mike is 39 years old, a general contractor and president of Gray Realty Co. Certain to get the Pellegrini vote. Charlie has lived in Arlington for most of his 46 years, but his dry-cleaning and real estate interests are in Charlestown. This is the first attempt for both to attain a higher office.

Wonder if Mike and Bob are thinking of a team ala Buckley and Saul. Speaking of Saul, there is a man to watch. Many believe his strength was with Buckley, but don't underestimate his own vote getting appeal.

I feel that it is much too early to predict the race and thus until next week when I will focus on the school committee race, I am off to search out political news over which you may misse.

Fatalities

with a car operated by Homer Desfarge, 20 Shade st., Waltham, traveling westerly on Broadway and making a left turn into Cleveland st.

In another mishap, Robert Golden, York, Pa., received a cut on his nose in a three car collision on Lake st., New Year's Day.

The accident, according to local police took when a car operated by Golden was in collision with a car owned by Abbie Fisher, Woburn. The force of the collision caused the Fisher car to collide with a car owned by Dale Bloedow, 24 Lake st.

Elected

Keith H. Smith, 145 Pleasant st., has been elected president of the Liberty Mutual Club, an employees organization of Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, in annual elections held country-wide in the company's 150 offices.

Smith, who joined the company in 1934, is assistant manager and chief statistician for the home office statistical department.

For Serious Thought

One of the unfortunate happenings of the Christmas season, and it seems to happen each and every year in some section of Arlington, is the taking of Christmas lights and ornaments from trees and houses.

Residents of Lake st., at a hearing not too long ago, were very dubious about extending the Christmas spirit to the point of decorating the outside of their homes because of the theft of Christmas tree lights in the past.

Early in December the reports of missing decorations began to appear daily on the local police blotter. Most serious reports came from areas of town where the various town departments and the town itself had decorated. In a matter of a few days, for example, the tree in front of the Arlington Central Fire Station was looted to the extent of 22 bulbs.

One woman called this office to report that some $12,000 worth of lights had been taken from trees in front of her house.

The taking of the lights was not confined to any one section of the community, but varied from day to day.

Although the Christmas season is just about over and most of the lights have now been taken down, the question of what can or should be done about such a happening is one that merits serious thought in the future.

Residents Sing With Lexington Choral Society

Eight Arlington residents will be among the 130 singers who will fill the stage at Cary Memorial Hall, Lexington, when the Lexington Choral Society presents its 20th annual winter concerts at 8:30 p.m. Jan. 7 and 8.

Featured on the identical winter programs will be two contrasting choral works of unusual interest: the "Mass in D Minor (Lord Nelson Mass)" by Franz Joseph Haydn, and the modern setting of "The Magnificat" by contemporary Boston composer Alan Hevhaness.

Allen C. Lannom, chairman of the Department of Applied Music and Performance at Boston University, will conduct the chorus and accompanying Philharmonia Symphony Orchestra.

Soloists in the Haydn and Hovanness works will be Ruth Lakeway, soprano; Rosalind Hupp, contralto; C. Ray Bryan, tenor; and Robert Patterson, bass.

The local residents who will participate in the concerts include Mrs. Joel Jensen, Mrs. Robert Davis, Mrs. Alexander Dingee, Mrs. John Paulson, Dr. George T. Critz, Mr. Herbert Glucksman, Mr. Joel E. Jensen, and Mr. John Paulson.

Since the capacity of Cary Hall is limited, admission to either concert is by free tickets, which may be obtained from any member of the Choral Society or at the Arlington Public Library.

Ticket Chairman, Mrs. Paul Harris, will accept orders telephoned to VO-2 2602.

Heavy Outlays for Aid to Polio Victims Cause Drain on March of Dimes Funds

"The National Foundation has the distinction and the honor of having exhausted its March of Dimes funds for patient aid," Basil O'Connor, its president, announced recently.

"Therefore, the March of Dimes has a $45 million job to do in 1961," he added.

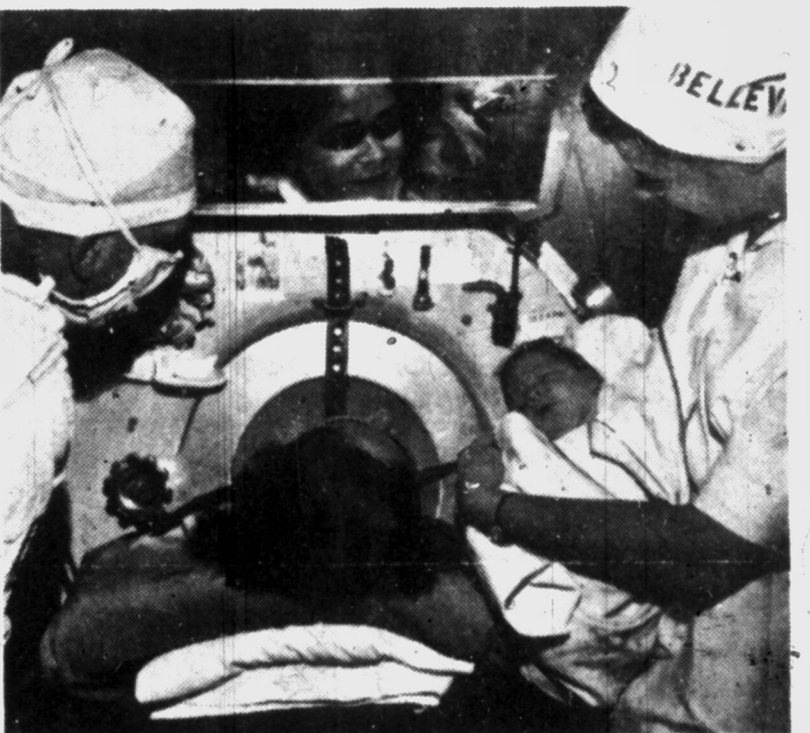

"But we always have had a tremendous job to do and have relied on the American people for financial support through the March of Dimes each January," he said. "At the same time, however, we do not live just from year to year but build broad research, educational and patient-aid programs for much longer periods. Continuation of these programs will require $45 million in 1961."

Speaking of the "urgent monetary needs of the 1961 New March of Dimes" to be held Jan. 2-31, the leader of the world's largest voluntary health organization explained that in 1960 about one-third of its 3,100 chapters had gone into debt to meet hospital and other bills for aid to polio victims.

"But our chapters are proud that they have not built up bank balances at the expense of human lives," he said.

Since 1938, when The National Foundation (for Infantile Paralysis) was organized, a total of $325,200,000 has been spent for direct patient aid to polio victims. In 1960, the bill was about $13,250,000 for some 40,000 of the polio-stricken. Although the Salk vaccine has been available to the public for five years, patient-aid costs remain high chiefly for those stricken before the vaccine was developed, or for those who since 1956 neglected to get inoculated and thus contracted polio.

March of Dimes monetary assistance to individual polio sufferers has sometimes been extremely great. To cite two instances only, patient-aid costs in the case of Mrs. Ingeborg Cully, of New York City, thus far have totaled about $25,000 and the end is not in sight; while expenditures for Tommy Examples: $25,000 was spent on Ingeborg Cully . . .

Davesy, six years old, of Boston, have reached $50,000.

Aside from the enormous financial toll in patient aid, substantial New March of Dimes contributions must also be used for research. Since 1938 The National Foundation has allocated $64,600,000 on its broad-based international research program which has produced, among other outstanding achievements, the Salk and Sabin polio vaccines and, incidentally, two Nobel prizes. In 1960, research funds are estimated at $5,000,000 covering The National Foundation's three health areas of birth defects, arthritis and polio.

More than twice that sum, or $10,400,000, is needed for research in 1961.

March of Dimes contributions have also made possible the largest education program for the training of medical and health experts ever attempted by a voluntary health agency. Since 1939, when The National Foundation launched its program of professional education, outlays in this field have totaled $34,900,000; in 1960, a total of $1,800,000 in March of

What Selectmen Talked About

Selectman Arthur Saul told fellow members of the Board Tuesday night that merchants in the general area of Mass. ave. east of Swan place are concerned over the fact that water settles in the gutter on their side of the street, while the other side of the Center area is dry.

Town Engineer Roby explained that the gutter line on that side of the street is some five feet from the curb and therefore is a flattened segment. The blades of the snow plows being flat miss a small portion of the area when plowing on the higher level of the roadway.

He also added that the only solution to the problem would be permanent regrading of the area.

Selectman Saul and Engineer Roby both stated that complaints had been received, especially during the period of the heavy snow storm, Dec. 12 that the new curb on the relocated Mystic st. is too high.

No possible solution to the matter until warm weather sets back in, however.

The new traffic signals for the relocation segment are expected between Jan 6-10; walk and don't walk signs will be included.

Members of the police department came in for some praise from the Selectmen for their work in direction of traffic in the area.

Comment of the week mentioned in passing -- The Town should now build an underpass on Summer st. to handle the backwash of traffic tied up by the relocation of Mystic st. Actually the traffic flow is fairly orderly and conditions are expected to improve even more once the signal lights are installed.

The list of persons qualified to serve as jurors was approved by the members of the Board Tuesday night and will be published in the Town Report.

The application of William L. Roch, 54 Amsden st., for a license to peddle butter, eggs and poultry in Massachusetts has been approved by the Board of Selectmen.

Police Chief Ryan in a report to the Selectmen has suggested that any study relative to prohibiting left turns from Railroad ave. into Mass. ave., be postponed until such time as the traffic signals have been installed at the newly relocated Mystic st.

The plans for the proposed parking area in the Railroad ave. section have arrived at Town Hall, and have been studied by several merchants in the area.

The matter regarding new quarters for the VFW, specifically the possibility of construction of a new home adjacent to the old Municipal parking area has been tabled by the Selectmen.

Also tabled was the matter of possible street extension of Railroad ave.

A good guess would be that the entire matter of face-lifting in that area will not be included in this year's Town Warrant.

Some say the entire matter should be given grave consideration before any definite action is taken, others seem to think action on the program will be a long time in coming because of conflict of interests. At any rate the Board of Selectmen have seen fit to pull the cost of relocation off its total estimated cost of street construction for the year.

The Finance Committee voted to transfer the sum of $23,000 for the removal of snow and ice and supplies via telephone meeting last week; the vote was unanimous.

AAA Excellent

Colonial Motors, 745 Massachusetts Ave., the official AAA Service Station, in this area, has been rated "excellent" after a recent survey by Walter Johnson, Assistant Emergency Road Service Manager of the American Automobile Association's Massachusetts Division.

The AAA manager inspected the garage's equipment and personnel. He praised the service station for maintaining a comprehensive day and night service program.

This service station is one of the more than 19,000 AAA contract garages which handle emergency road service calls for disabled motorists.

Ambassador Of Good Will T. D. Club Speaker

Dr. Tennyson Guyer, commonly known as "Ohio's Ambassador of Good Will" will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Arlington Touchdown Club at the Fantasia Restaurant, Cambridge, January 12, starting at 7 p.m.

A speaker at the Touchdown Club several times in recent years, Dr. Tennyson has been called the "Prince of Platformers," "Master of Mirth" and "America's Premier Inspirational Speaker." He has been asked to speak at the Arlington affair by William Sinclair of Monadnock rd.

Born in Findlay, Ohio, he grew up in a community well known for its famous residents—Zane Grey, Marie Dressler, Marilyn Miller, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale—to name a few.

Always interested in people, he can be remembered back in Findlay as mascot of the athletic teams at Findlay College, where his late father served as president.

"Along the way he found variety and adventure by working as caddie, bell-hop, counter man, circus performer, youth supervisor, social worker, mayor, radio artist, writer, traveler, and minister. Graduating from Findlay high school and Findlay college, he now holds five honorary doctor's degrees."

The International Platform Association named him the best inspirational speaker in America a year ago.

He was elected to the Ohio Senate without opposition, so now divides his time between the legislature in Columbus and the Cooper Tire and Rubber Co. in Findlay, where he serves as Director of Public Relations.

Mental Health Group Plans Meetings Here

Concentrated attention on matters related to "Understanding Adolescents" will be the subject of three January meetings of the Arlington Mental Health Association.

Why gangs? What happens when the desire for adventure outweighs the need for security? Why is conformity to the crowd so important for young people? Who sets the pace? What can parents and adults do to guide or direct? These and many other concerns will be discussed at the meetings to be held in the Little Theater of the Arlington High School on the evenings of January 9, 16 and 23.

The first meeting of the series at 8 P.M. at the Little Theater offers a panel of speakers who know our young people in differing ways at school and at home. Panel participants are: Mr. Otis R. Jason, principal of Junior High East; Mrs. William McCarty, parent and civic leader; Mr. George F. Fusco, teacher at Arlington High School; Mr. Howard Donalds, Counselor at Arlington High School. The Panel Chairman and moderator of the general audience discussion is: Mr. Daniel C. Wolfe, Psychological Counseling Dept., Arlington Public Schools.

The following meeting on the same theme of "Understanding Adolescents" will present a skit, "Tomorrow is a Day" on the January 16th date, while the final meeting on Jan. 23rd will provide a summation and conclusion based on the earlier meetings.

Garden Club

Home Talent Day at the Arlington Garden Club will be held Jan. 11 at 2 p.m. in the Robbins Junior Library Hall.

Colored slides of members' gardens will be shown. There will be a discussion on the care of house plants.

Win Promotions
